Can we improve on this in 2008?

Why we need your help

One in three Australians will be diagnosed with cancer at some stage in their lives. Each year more than 88,000 new cases of cancer are diagnosed but more than half of these will be successfully treated.

While the survival rates for many common cancers has increased by more than 30 per cent in the past two decades, cancer is still the leading cause of death in Australia - over 36,000 Australians die from cancer each year. This makes cancer one of Australia's leading health concerns and ongoing funds are vital to continue important cancer control programs.

The Cancer Council relies on charitable donations, including money raised by Australia's Biggest Quilting Bee and Australia's Biggest Morning Tea, to continue their important work. The funds you raise will directly help reduce the impact of cancer.
